Gainful Employment Reporting

Recently, the College was required to report under Gainful Employment requirements. The College is currently up to date on Gainful Employment Reporting data requirements for 2025 and is awaiting government reporting of metrics for review (Step 3 below) or other additional guidance.

1. Identify Applicable Programs
2. Collect and Report Student-Level Data to the Department of Education (ED)
Colleges must report specific data for each program by July 31, 2024, and annually thereafter.
3. Review Metrics Published by ED
4. Disclose Required Information to Students
For programs covered by GE, colleges must:

- Post program-level disclosures on their websites
- Provide student warnings (for programs that fail GE metrics)
- Ensure disclosures are easily accessible and updated annually

ED is also expected to release a model disclosure template or tool that institutions will need to use or link to.
5. Provide Student Warnings for Failing Programs
If a GE program fails the required metrics:

- The institution must issue student warnings before students enroll or continue.
- Warnings must be delivered directly (e.g., via email or student portal) and before disbursing aid.
