Allied Health Pre Nursing

Make a real difference in others lives!

Strengthen your skills in a program specifically designed to prepare you for acceptance into the competitive Practical Nursing program.

What is the Allied Health Pre Nursing Program?

The Allied Health Pre-Nursing program is designed to help you become a strong candidate for acceptance into the competitive Practical Nursing program. The program provides a focused curriculum enabling you to acquire the skills needed to prepare for a successful nursing career. Courses in the program are taught in small, personalized classes. The faculty are knowledgeable nursing professionals who can provide the specific instruction and individualized guidance you'll need in your preparation to join the nursing profession.

Why is the program beneficial to me?

This program is designed for students who seek to be candidates for acceptance into the competitive Practical Nursing program. Courses are taught by highly experienced instructors. To improve one's chances of being accepted into the Practical Nursing program, candidates should complete at least the first term.
